The Sewanee Experience is a reinforcement of the growing process, "a gift of growing, never to be outgrown." The Sewanee Man will at some point see this in himself: that he has learned to push ever onward in new explorations, never to rest in stagnant complacency. In this lies the greatest joy of the teacher at Sewanee—that his students take the proffered torch and set out on their own among the labyrinthine wonders of life.

The Sewanee Man . . .

MEASE USE WILK

There is no flexibility in honor.

Christian gentlemen.

Our mountainous vantage .

By name . . .

The unfading story of Sewanee has been unfolding for the past one hundred and nine years. Her sons, who came in newness, left as older and wiser men. The story of the Sewanee Man, both student and teacher, succeeded: a Christian gentleman, humane and open-minded, Only in honor is flexibility denied. The Honor Code has bred men of iron integrity who demand the same quality from all who surround them. Honor has never heen dispensable at Sewanee; its absence would transform her beyond recognition.

The scenery from our mountainous vantage encourages a pioneer spirit, and the educated mind wanders into the vastness of the valleys and plateaus. Throughout these uplands the mood of Dvorak's New World Symphony lingers. So the land also lends itself to the spirit and character of the Sewanee Man.

In another way, the natural setting enhances the feeling that all Sewanee men share. Sewanee is one of a handful of colleges that can boast of the distinction of intimacy. Her men know each other by name and personality, instilling in them a sense of fellowship in the pursuit of excellence, while broadening their understanding of the kaleidoscope of human affairs. Sewanee counts as part of her the leader and the follower, the conservative and the liberal, the boor and the scholar, and the length and breadth of the social spectrum.

A direction in study must be taken.

At some time in the great welter of experiences that is Sewanee a direction in study must be taken. For many it is a crucial event. However, mistakes are rare thanks to the liberal arts system, which gives each participant a final exposure to the subjects that he thought that he had previously diagnosed. Sometimes a new bent is discovered, and fateful impetus is given to an undreamed of future.

At Sewanee, time is the seasons, starting in the passing of green leaves; then the crisp, smoky smell of autumn interspersed with isolating fog; gnarled, wintry trees clawing the colorless sky; and last the warm, electric feeling of spring air and budding life. Time is grades and transcripts, and the full feeling of high achievement; or perhaps it is the escaping Sunday afternoon of a party weekend. Even more, maybe all of these things are what we call time in the rich mosaic of the Sewanee experience.

The great welter of experiences.

Time is the seasons.

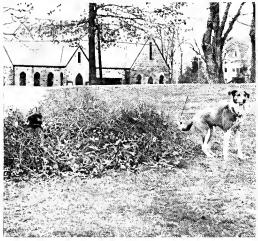

Sewanee is to be experienced . . .

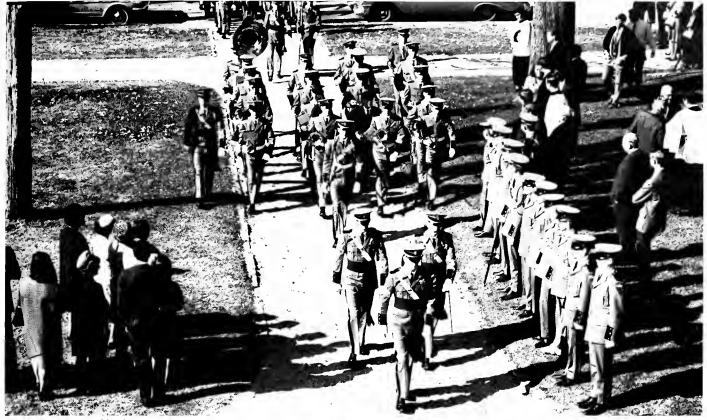

to prepare the Sewanee Man . . .

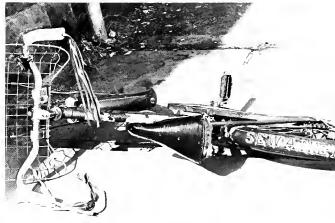

to tackle life in all its . . . elusiveness.

Growth . . . in the world today . . .

Ultimately, Sewanee is to be experienced, as is life. Then Sewanee performs its most general function: to help prepare the Sewanee Man to tackle life in all of its panoramic elusiveness, filling him with growth and character. For in the realities of the world today, it is that quality called character which guides men in all the deeds which they perform.

DEDICATION:

"No man can be at home unless he knows the value of place. Further it is not a real value unless it is known to be the value of Him. who is the very strength of the Mountain." To many men Sewanee has been both place and home. One of these is The Reverend William Henry Ralston. Jr., whom the students on the Mountain regard as a close friend and an understanding advisor. As a person, teacher, and student, Father Ralston is one of those that Sewanee calls her best.

The man who is presently the acting editor of The Sewanee Review is a graduate of this University, in the class of 1951. He received the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology from General Theological Seminary in 1951, and the Master of Sacred Theology in 1956. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1955. Father Ralston has been a Fellow at Harvard University, and a Fellow and Tutor at General Theological Seminary. He has been Fellow, Tutor, Instructor, and Chaplain at Trinity College. Toronto; and American Fellow at St. Augustine's College, Canterbury. It is with great pleasure that the 1967 edition of the CAP AND GOWN is dedicated to our friend. Mr. Ralston.

THE CHANCELLOR

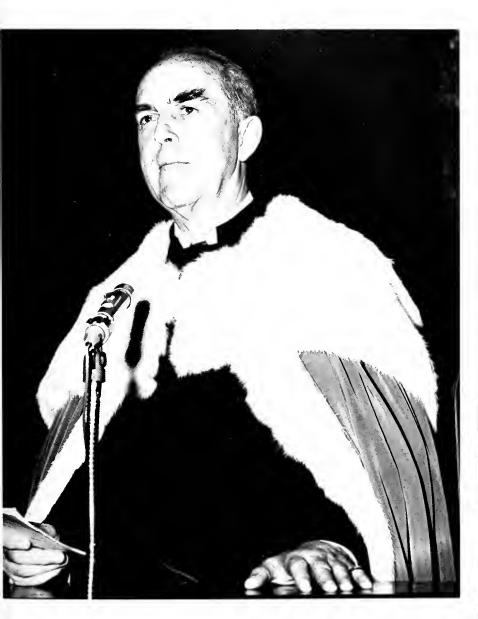

The Chancellor of the University of the South is elected by the Board of Trustees from the bishops of Sewanee's twenty-one owning dioceses. The present Chancellor is The Right Reverend Charles Colcock Jones Carpenter, Bishop of Alabama, who has held the post since 1960. Although not a graduate of the University, Bishop Carpenter has long-standing ties with Sewanee and was a trustee for many years before he became Chancellor. He holds a B.A.

from Princeton and a B.D. from Virginia Theological Seminary. Princeton, Virginia, Sewanee, and Alabama have awarded him honorary degrees.

Following in the English tradition, Sewanee's Chancellor is burdened with few administrative responsibilities. He serves as president of the Board of Trustees, exofficio member of the Board of Regents, and confers honorary degrees at Commencement ceremonies.

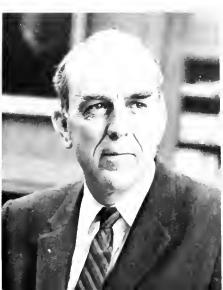

THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

Sewanee is fortunate to have as its chief executive a man who embodies the ideals of the University. Dr. Edward McCrady, eleventh Vice-Chancellor of the University of the South, indeed personifies the Christian gentleman and scholar which Sewanee seeks to produce. A biologist by profession. Dr. McCrady is an accomplished musician, artist, and woodcarver. His other interests include architecture, theology, and speleology. The institution of the liberal arts college has no more articulate leader.

Dr. McCrady received his B.A. from the College of Charleston, his M.S. from the University of Pittsburgh, and his Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania. He was chairman of Sewanee's biology department and chief biologist at the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies before assuming his present position in 1951. As Vice-Chancellor he serves as president of the University Corporation and is the University's top administrative officer.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents, which is elected by the Board of Trustees, is the executive board of the University. It is composed of three bishops, three priests, and six laymen of the Episcopal Church, with the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor serving as ex-officio members. This board performs all duties pertaining to the government and maintenance of the University. except those particularly reserved by the Board of Trustees. The Board of Regents holds regular meetings at Sewanee three times a year.

It is through the supervision of the Board that such programs as the Ten Million Dollar Campaign are coordinated. Although these men are also much concerned with their vocations, one would think not because of the time and energy that they spend with the affairs of the University of the South. In governing the University, they always strive to discuss questions with responsible members of the student body.

PROVOST

Since he came to Sewanee in 1925, Dr. Bruton has played a vital role in the many sides of Sewanee life. He has been chairman of the mathematics department and tennis coach. As Provost he is the University's second-ranking administrative officer.

GASTON SWINDELL BRUTON, Ph.D.

Dr. Webb has assumed the duties of the Dean of the College for the past two years. He is responsible for the academic rules and requirements of the College. He will return to the position of Dean of Men at the beginning of the second semester. In other capacities. Dr. Webh is professor of American history and a member of the local draft board.

CHARLES O'CONNOR BAIRD, D.F.

It is through the agency of Mr. Ransom and his office that the caliber of Sewanee men remains the same. He manages to know all of the entering class each year, and remains a friend and advisor to all students throughout their four years on the Mountain.

DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS

As Dean of Men Dr. Baird is concerned with student counseling, disciplinary problems, and room assignments. He is also associate professor of forestry, a member of the Publications Board, and a star player for the faculty volleyball team.

SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

The prospective Dean chats with the Vice-Chancellor about coming to Sewanee. Dean George Moyer Alexander.

TO THE DEAN:

The year ending 1966 marks the tenth anniversary of Dean George Moyer Alexander. To our Dean we pay tribute for his ministry and service to the students, faculty, and staff of St. Luke's Seminary.

His 'theologs' especially express their gratitude for his guidance in a healthy, steady growth at St. Luke's; his inspiration toward a deepening of faith and scholarship; and his warm and faithful pastoral care for the entire seminary community.

We thank him for contributions through his service and administration, such as these: the renovation of St. Luke's Hall; the substantial increases in endowments, faculty salaries, housing for married students and the Theological Education Sunday Offerings; the full accreditation with the A.A.T.S.; the full sabbatical programs; the establishment of The St. Luke's Journal and the DuBose Lectureship; and the development of The Graduate School of Theology into one of the finest.

The Dean's Secretary, Mrs. John Hodges, speaks for us when she says what makes our Dean special: "Somehow the first thing that comes to mind about George Alexander is his genuine humility and modesty, resulting in a special kind of kindness, patience, and freedom to all who work with him and learn from him . . . and there is freedom of opinion and of discussion at his seminary."

We agree. And we salute you, Dean' Alexander, Sir! And may God continue to bless your ministry and service.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Gownsmen listen to a point at one of the monthly meetings.

ORDER OF GOWNSMEN

The Order of Gownsmen was founded in 1873 by William Porcher DuBose, then University Chaplain. The gown is the symbol at Sewanee of academic achievement and is worn by all upperclassmen who meet the necessary scholastic qualifications. The gown is worn to all classes and chapel services and is a constant reminder to all non-gownsmen of the excellence of Sewanee's intellectual atmosphere.

The members of the Order are given the privilege of voluntary class attendance, and all student offices except class offices must be filled by gownsmen. A student loses his gown automatically once his average for a semester falls below the particular standard set for each class.

The gown is more, however, than a mark of privilege: it is also a symbol of responsibility. To the gownsmen is left in large part the maintenance of the traditions of honor and gentlemanly conduct that have been the ideal and hallmark of this University since its founding. By precept and by example the wearers of the gown are expected to lead, for it is their voice that speaks for the students to the administration, to the alumni and to the Regents.

While a need has been seen to differentiate between the functions of the gownsmen and their actual power, it is apparent that the Order serves as the one body on campus that might be considered student government. Although it might be debated that the Order possesses sufficient power to carry out this function, such a role has in fact been assumed as evidenced by its monthly meetings, standing committees, and voice in other student affairs. Seen in perspective however, the OG regulates and administers, but does not govern. Its most important function is advisory, and in this capacity its role is to act as a liaison between the students and governing bodies of the University.

The Executive Committee: J. Carbaugh, J. Cruse, J. White, Tom Ward (President), T. Payne, N. Iverson, B. Sheller.

The Ring Committee: B. Venekamp, J. Dane, J. Carbaugh.

The New Ideas Committee: Kneeling: B. Scheu, J. Cruse. Standing: R. Brewer, G. Hart.

The Student Proctors have long served as an important organization in Sewanee life. Upon them is placed the task of maintaining a proper standard of conduct in the dormitories, in chapel, in Gailor dining hall, and on the campus in general. In addition, the Proctors take upon themselves the responsibility of preserving the traditions of Sewanee. Such functions require a close link with the administration, and the respect of the student body. The outcome, to a great extent, is a self-disciplined student community.

The Proctors for the forthcoming year are nominated by the incumbent Proctors during the spring, and final approbation is given by the administration of the University. To be nominated, a student must he a rising junior or senior member of the Order of Gownsmen, as well as a responsible student and class leader. Dormitory assignments are completed for the following year by the new Head Proctor, who is likewise appointed by the administration. During the fall assistant proctors are selected, and upon them also devolve the duties of proctorship.

HONOR COUNCIL

Chairman Richard Dolbeer.

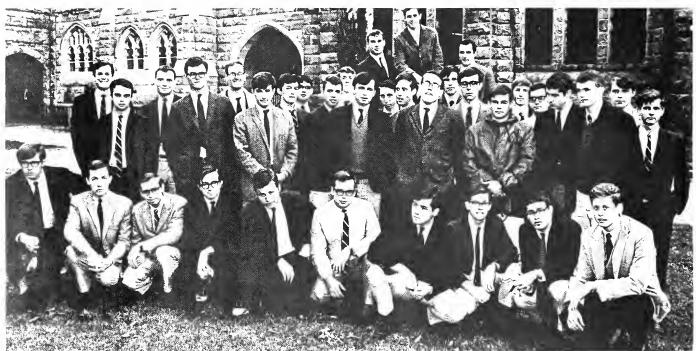

One of the most treasured and important traditions of Sewanee is the Honor Code. This code, written and enforced by the students themselves, is summed up by saying that a man shall neither lie, cheat, nor steal. It exemplifies the character of the trust that has traditionally been placed in men at this school by their superiors. All students must subscribe to this code upon entering the University, and are thereby bound to it as long as they remain in the University.

The Honor Code is administered by an Honor Council composed of three seniors, three juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman from the college, and one member from the school of theology. The council meets when there has been a suspected violation of the code; and, if after a full hearing it decides that the accused party is guilty, the council has the power to ask the Dean of the College to expel the offender from school. Final appeal rests with the Vice-Chancellor.

The Honor Code at Sewanee is taken seriously by the students. Exams are not proctored. A man's word is taken as true, and trust, rather than doubt or suspicion, marks most relationships.

What kind of bird was that, John?

THE SEWANEE PURPLE

The Sewanee Purple is the official organ of the students of the University of the South. It is published weekly, with the publication date falling on Thursday night, Though the Publications Board handles and controls responsibility in fiscal matters of the Purple, it cannot aet as a prior censor of the content of the paper.

This year marks the seventy-sixth of the Purple's existence. It has been preceeded by such publications as the Uni- versity Record, the Sewanee Times, and the Tiger. The Reverend Louis Tucker of Mobile was the man who fostered the idea of a paper totally controlled and operated by the students, and thus the Purple had its beginning in 1892.

The Purple this year has dedicated itself to a policy of maturity and reasonableness in its editorial comment. It is the opinion of the Editor that the problems at Sewanee can be magnified out of their true proportion, and that a second look and thought will lead to a more accurate conclusion. On the other hand, the Purple must be read and given serious consideration by the students, faculty, and administration if it is to carry on a meaningful dialogue.

There are imperfections in our Areadia, but honest conclusions honestly drawn concerning their rectification should be the goal of the next generation of Purple editors.

THE MOUNTAIN GOAT

The Mountain Goat, founded in 1925 by Coleman Harwell and John Whitaker, has been published sporadically ever since. Because it was considered an unwarranted drain on the University finances, it was discontinued from 1938 to 1950. Since that time, it has been an official University publication. supposedly combining the functions of a literary and a humor magazine.

Actually, the Mountain Goat is the illegitimate son of the Sewanee Purple whose chief claim to humor lies somewhere between apathy and nausea. It is printed spasmodically when the editors have rummaged enough copy out of the wastepaper baskets. The only discernable difference between the Goat and toilet tissue is that the former is printed on five-ply paper.

The Goat used to serve a utilitarian purpose by stuffing the cracks in the walls of Barton and Seldon in the winter time but since these dorms have been evacuated they'll now line the floor of the student union along with the bills from the Sewanee Dry Cleaners and other junk mail that comes to the SPO. The Goat is printed by the Andy Warhol Press in the basement of Hoffman Hall every Halloween and April Fool's Day and is distributed to anyone who has no taste. It is mailed every leap year to subscribers in plain, brown wrapping paper.

CAP AND GOWN 1966-67

The CAP AND GOWN staff puts in a hard night's work.

The first issue of the CAP AND GOWN came out in 1891 when some fraternity members put out a paperback edition of fraternity rolls and an account of the year's athletics at the University. The first hardbound edition appeared in 1895, but it contained mostly personal articles instead of the University's activities, Issues were not regular until after the First World War, Financial troubles made it necessary to obtain a sufficient number of subscriptions before an issue was published, Since 1947, however, yearly editions of the CAP AND GOWN have been published to provide a summary of the year's events on the Mountain.

We wish to express thanks to all the proofreaders, typists, and copy-writers who put in much time producing the 1967 edition of the CAP AND GOWN.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The Publications Board is a standing committee whose purpose is to supervisc all of the student publications: the CAP AND GOWN, the Sewanee Purple, and the Mountain Goat. The committee is composed of five members of the faculty and a student representative of both the junior and senior classes. In addition to these voting members, the editors and business managers of the three publications act in an ex officio capacity. The Board regulates the finances of the publications, acts as a censor when necessary, and approves nominations for the editorships of the various publications.

The Board is presided over by the Rev. William A. Griffin as chairman. Other non-student members include Dr. Charles O. Baird, Mr. Henry Arnold, Mr. Albert S. Gooch and Mr. Donald B. Webber, Junior representative and secretary of the Board is Fred Forster and the senior representative is Neal Iverson. The editors who serve on the Board are Bill Scheu, CAP AND Gown: John Cruse, the Sewanee Purple; and John Carbaugh, the Mountain Goat. The respective business managers are Russel Daniel, Rod Webb, and John Bear.

Sopherim is the mother chapter of Sigma Upsilon, the first national literary fraternity. It was founded at Sewanee in 1904. Its dual purposes are to recognize exceptional literary understanding and performance, and to encourage creative writing and discussion at Sewanee. In doing so, it brings together all the students on campus who show an interest in literature and creative writing. This year Sopherim has its largest active membership in memory—twelve men—and hopes to present a somewhat more ambitious program than its predecessors. Plans include trips to other colleges with similar groups, exchange of manuscripts and criticisms, possible publication of an independent literary magazine, and sponsorship of lectures and readings by outstanding men of letters.

WOODROW WILSON FELLOWSHIPS

Since its foundation in 1945, the Woodrow Wilson National Foundation has awarded more than 14,000 Woodrow Wilson Fellowships. The purpose of the grant is to further the prospects of deserving students for graduate education, with an eye to the development of future teachers.

Any member of the academic profession in the United States may nominate a student for this award. The student then undergoes a rigid personal examination before a committee, as well as having to submit a short paper on his intellectual interests. The recipients of the award receive tuition at any graduate school in this country or Canada for one year, as well as two thousand dollars for personal expenses.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded on December 5, 1776, at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia. It was the first society to have a Greek letter name, and with its beginning the basic characteristics of all such societies were introduced: secrecy oath, a badge, mottoes in Greek and Latin, a code of laws, an elaborate form of initiation, a seal, and a grip. Regular meetings were held at which the emphasis was placed on literary exercises. Social meetings were also held and anniversaries were celebrated. Many of these gatherings were held in the Apollo Room of the Raleigh Tayern in Williamsburg.

There are 160 chapters today, with a membership of over 141,000. Beta of Tennessee at the University of the South became the second chapter in the state and the one hundred and first in the nation with its formation in 1026

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership honor society for men, was founded at Washington and Lee University on December 3, 1914. The founders conceived of a fraternity based on all-around leadership, recognizing men in all phases of college life who should cooperate in worthwhile endeavor and meet with mutual interest, understanding, and helpfulness.

Omicron Delta Kappa was the first college honor society of national scope to afford recognition and honor for meritorius leadership and service in extra-curricular activities and to encourage the development of general campus leadership. The emphasis for membership is placed on the development of the well-rounded man and high academic proficiency. The five major phases of campus life that the society recognizes and honors are scholarship, athletics, social and religious affairs, publications and speech, and music and the dramatic arts.

BLUE KEY

Blue Key was founded in 1923 at the University of Florida. It is a national honor fraternity composed of those men who have exemplified exceptional leadership ability and high character. Membership is determined in the spring of the academic year on the criteria of scholarship, athletic achievement, and participation in student affairs. In addition, a candidate for membership must display a potential for future growth.

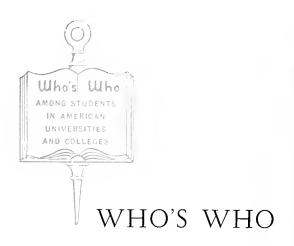

Blue Key sponsors a number of major activities at Sewanee among which are the Inter-Fraternity Sing and the Homecoming Queen Contest. By collecting outstanding students into a single organization, which can then work for the best interests of Sewanee, the fraternity serves a valuable purpose in campus life.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities was first published in 1934 in order to recognize students of outstanding ability and integrity. More than six hundred fifty colleges and universities in the United States and Canada annually have seniors represented in Who's Who, the atlas of collegiate leadership. Sewanee men nominated for Who's Who are chosen by the executive committee of the Order of Gownsmen. This committee selects students on the basis of personal character, academic excellence, extracurricular achievements and leadership ability that has been displayed.

SIGMA PI SIGMA

Sigma Pi Sigma is a national honor society whose objective is to distinguish those students showing high scholarship and promise of achievement in physics. It also aims to promote student interest in research and the advanced study of physics and tries to bring the students and professors into closer association.

The local chapter at the University of the South was installed in May 1956, with a total of twenty-four members. The present chapter membership is over fifty active, alumni and faculty members.

SCHOLARS

RHODES SCHOLARS

This year Sewanee is fortunate to have produced two Rhodes Scholars, Tom Ward and Bo Sheller. This brings the total of Sewanee men who have received Rhodes Scholarships to eighteen. Tom is an English major and President of the Order of Gownsmen. He plans to read in the field of Philosophy, Politics and Economics while at Oxford and eventually to study law. Bo is also an English major and an associate editor of the Sewanee Purple and plans to work in medicine.

The Rhodes Scholarship fund was set up in 1902 by Cecil Rhodes, the prominent English adventurer and statesman. Rhodes was a believer in the superiority of the Anglo-Saxon race and devoted his whole life to the furthering of Anglo-Saxon culture and understanding. The Rhodes Scholarships were part of his work. His scholarship fund was to provide scholarships for outstanding students in the United States, the British Empire and Germany for study at Oxford and have become the symbol of academic excellence in those countries.

PURPLE MASQUE

The Purple Masque, dramatic society of the University of the South, opened the 1966-67 season with a production of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's The Rivals. The play is a comedy on the society and literary styles of the Eighteenth Century. For the first time this year the society was able to present live plays during the Fall semester. In December the Purple Masque presented Billy Budd, a stage adaptation of Herman Mellville's famous novel. One production has been scheduled for the Spring Semester.

Membership in the Purple Masque has been left open this year to those who participate, consistently, in the productions of the society. In the plays such as Billy Budd student participation has increased which is beneficial to both the student and Purple Masque. The President for the 1966-67 year is Arjan Sajnani.

SPEAKER'S FORUM

In its first full year of operation, the Sewanee Student Forum, an autonomous committee of the Order of Gownsmen, has continued to serve the academic community. Its main aim is to confront and discuss issues and current ideas by inviting speakers to Sewanee as well as by encouraging local voices of opinion. First semester the Student Forum had an interesting gathering of Tennessee Democrats and Ambassador Elbridge Durbrow, an expert on U.S. Foreign Policy in Southeast Asia. Allen Tate highlighted the second-semester program.

The Forum consists of nine members, one ex officio, and eight of whom are elected by the group itself.

Early last fall several ardent cavers on the Mountain banded together to rejuvenate the Cumberland Grotto of the National Speleological Society. Since its establishment at Sewanee, the Grotto has grown considerably and has carried on weekly explorations of some of the many caves in Middle Tennessee and Northern Georgia. The Society promotes cave safety and conservation and provides a medium to bring together people interested in caving. Membership is open to all interested persons in the area.

The Sewanee Jazz Society was founded in 1958 by a group of students and faculty members drawn together by their common interest in jazz. The Society endeavors to promote appreciation of jazz on the Sewanee campus. It has sponsored a series of concerts on the afternoons of party weekends,

It is with deserved pride that the Society looks back on the notables of jazz whom it has brought to the Mountain. Among them are the Dave Brubeck Quartet, the Modern Jazz Quartet, Mose Allison, Brother Jack McDuff and the Connonball Adderdey Sextet. It is such accomplished artists as these who have drawn lovers of jazz from hundreds of miles away for concerts.

The All Saints' Chapel Student Vestry is an advisory board to the University Chaplain. Elected by the Order of Gownsmen as one of its standing committees, the Vestry aids and advises the Chaplain primarily in the government and maintenance of the Chapel.

In recent years, the Vestry has also sponsored the annual Inquirer's Class and the Lenten program. By taking advantage of the many interested and talented people on the Mountain, these programs have been appealing and informative and have greatly contributed to the spiritual life of the University Community.

The University Sacristans are a group of men interested in serving the church on an everyday basis and who profess a more than average interest in church affairs. The sacristans assist in both the Sunday and the daily chapel services at noon. They are responsible for preparing the church for the services and assisting during the services, especially the Communion service. Being a sacristan is one way for students in the University to become more familiar with the work of the church and move on to a career in the service of the church.

The Young Democrats this year at Sewanee consist mostly of what was left of a previously active and vigorous group. Although a small group and limited in its activities, the Young Democrats take an interest in almost any election anywhere and are concerned with most political questions, especially international issues.

The group hopes, in the future, to put forth a more active program in this area that will benefit all the people and the brotherhood of man.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

Young Republicans at Sewanee, while being somewhat inactive this year, were heartened by the 1966 successes of the Party in Tennessee and the nation. Notable was the victory of Howard Baker, an alumnus of Sewanee, over Governor Frank Clement, Tennessee also saw a Republican increase in the Congressional delegation and in the state legislature.

Efforts have been made to obtain G.O.P. speakers at Sewanee. The Party has shown much interest in sending its notables to the Mountain.

DEBATE CLUB

Interest has been revived in intercollegiate debating at Sewanee in recent years and this year's debate squad has had an active and fulfilling year. During the fall semester the freshmen showed great promise by doing well at a novice tournament. For the spring semester the club had an active program by debating at Johns Hopkins University. Middle Tennessee State University, Florida State University, Lenoir Rhyne College, the Exchange Club National Open Debate Tournament and the University of Miami.

The English-Speaking Union was founded at Sewanee by Dr. George H. Clarke, then editor of The Sewanee Review and head of the English department, and Miss Sada Elliott. The Hudson Stuck Chapter was named for an Archdeacon of the Yukon. It now meets at the home of Mrs.

George Myers, where tea is served, the first Monday of each month. Talks are presented on all aspects of Anglo-American affairs and culture. The basic aim of the organization is to draw tighter bonds of comradeship among the English-speaking peoples of the world.

The Pre-Law Association of the University is an organization maintaining as its goal the bringing together of those students professing an interest in a law career. Guided by the able counsel of its faculty advisor. Dr. Robert L. Keele, the actual affairs of the group are conducted by its student officers.

The association is quite active in bringing to the Mountain professors from various law schools to discuss the vital link between college and the legal profession. The fall banquet presented the Dean of the University of Georgia Law School. Lindsey Cowen, who gave an enlightening talk on what to expect in a law career. A banquet in the spring had an equally distinguished speaker on the agenda.

FORESTRY CLUB

The Sewanee Forestry Club, founded in 1959, was organized in order to promote more active interest in outdoor life and to increase interest and knowledge of forestry as a profession. Membership in the Forestry Club is open to anyone who professes these interests. The club is fortunate in having fine facilities: a club room in the Snowden Forestry Building and a log cabin with a view of the valley from which most outdoor activities originate. In addition, the club members enjoy many fine movies that pertain to forestry and conservation.

Auch dabei waren Fräulein Almut Giesecke, die einige

Weihnachtslieder wunderbar gesungen hat, und mehrere Mitglieder der deutschen Luftwaffe, die den Abend sehr erheiterten! (siehe Bild)

Andere Programme, die für die Zukunft geplant sind, schliessen unter anderem ein: eine Gesangfest, damit man deutsche Lieder auswendig wird lernen können: ein Tanzunterricht; und schliesslich ein Jahresabschlussfeier im Freien am Ende des Schuljahres.

MOTORCYCLE Club

The Sewanee Motorcycle Club was formed early this year in order to maintain and support woods riding for which this area is ideal, and to encourage members' competition in local and regional events. This club has an A. M. A. sanction.

The 'cycles and members are of almost every breed, from strictly competitive machines, to wood bikes, to the toy. As motorcycles become more and more numerous, the need for such an organization will become apparent.

Founded in September 1947, at the University of Cincinnati, the Arnold Air Society has grown to be an organization with nearly 200 chapters at colleges and universities throughout the United States. FRATERNITIES

THE SEWANEE FRATERNITY SYSTEM

From its earliest days Sewanee has fostered Greek-letter groups. Before the turn of the century eight national social fraternities founded chapters here. Five of them, in fact, erected the first chapter houses in their national fraternities.

Today, fraternities flourish at Sewanee with natural pride in each group, but they do so without partisan exclusiveness. The groups neither live nor eat at the houses and open them to all the students on the mountain. There's a place for everyone of the mountain.

A Sewanee fraternity is omnipresent of the campus. Bull-sessions, Gailor meals rituals, sports, rivalries, friendships, stud groups, politics, beer, parties, poker, rules selectivity, dissension, salesmanship, poof television, work, competition, prestige handicap; are descriptive synonymus for fraternity homogenity and at the same time indivuality.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Inter-Fraternity Council, a standing committee of the Order of Gownsmen. effects a liaison between fraternities and the administration and governs relations among the various chapters. Its membership consists of the president and one other member from each fraternity and the Association of Independent Men.

The Council regulates the activities of the chapters in the vital areas of Rush Week and pledge training. It is responsible for determining and supervising the execution of rush rules; it oversees the actions of fraternities during the rush period and hears cases involving any infringement of the Pan-Hellenic Constitution. The Council also establishes the standards for the pledge programs, rules on petitions to charter new fraternities at Sewanee, submits recommendations to the administration, and passes proposals concerning fraternity life in general for consideration by University officials and the Dean of Men.

More informally, the Council serves as a valuable forum for the exchange of ideas and the discussion of issues and conflicts that may arise from fraternity life. All considered, it is a valuable and integral part of the Sewanee fraternity system.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

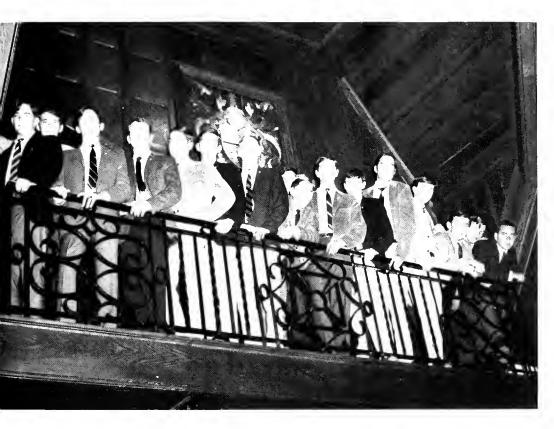

Alpha Tau Omega was founded at Richmond, Virginia, in September of 1865 by three young Confederate soldiers. Since that time over 160 chapters, representative of every section of the country, have been added.

Just twelve years after this time a force of fourteen University students began the twenty-fourth colony at Sewanee. This chapter has had an interesting history and continues the standard of excellence begun in 1877 when four of the five Sewanee graduates were members of Tennessee Omega.

The chapter today is outstanding in the academic world with a member of Phi Beta Kappa and four members of the college Who's Who. Every year the chapter is well represented by people who lead the school and its many clubs and organizations. The chapter is also represented on the field of athletics. as defending intramural champions and many contributors to the success of varsity football, swimming, track, and tennis teams.

BETA THETA PI

Beta Theta Pi was founded August 8, 1839, on the campus of Miami University at Oxford, Ohio. John Reily Knox, the principal founder, wished to establish a truly national fraternity, and the one hundred four active chapters in forty-one states and Canada attest to fulfillment of this ideal.

Steadily growing in size and strength, this year's membership has established a creditable reputation for promoting and maintaining its well-rounded character, although Gamma Chi Chapter is relatively young, having been founded at Sewanee on December 2, 1949. Again this year the chapter's members are found in the highest ranks of the University, in academic and athletic pursuits as well as in the field of leadership. Among other organizations, achievement has been recognized by representation in Phi Beta Kappa, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and both the Red and Green Ribbon Societies. This year's Order of Gownsmen Secretary is a Beta as well as this year's recipient of the Woods Sophomore Leadership Award.

Sewanee Betas are competing this year in every intercollegiate sport, and can boast of two team captains. Fraternity spirit is shown in intramurals with this year's basketball team working to retain the trophy captured last year.

Through capable leadership and mutual cooperation. Gamma Chi has continued to maintain its position at the height of campus life. In so doing, it has both realized and honored the ideals of the founders of Beta Theta Pi.

CHI PSI

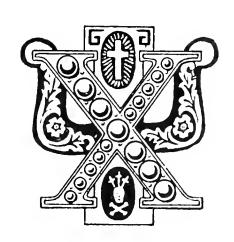

This year we moved to our manor near the lake. The event was duly celebrated by a banquet and formal dance, following which, the traditional Sewanee drunk was thrown. Truly, it has been said, that all good things come to him who waits.

Chi Psi is the eighth oldest fraternity in the nation, and the second youngest here on the mountain. The fraternity was founded on May 20, 1841, at Union College in Schenectady, New York, in a hunting lodge hidden in the woods. Chi Psi's have been frequently going to and from the woods ever since. In the founder's zeal to let others in on a good thing, he tried to start a fraternity on shipboard while in the Navy. He was hanged for his trouble, and the Chi Psi have been a swinging bunch ever since.

Though our lodge is somewhat removed from the rest of the campus, being across from Malon Courts, we look for good years to come. After all, it will be the center of the proposed second campus. Chi Psi is certainly looking forward to a great future at Sewanee.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Delta Tau Delta was founded at Bethany College in West Virginia in 1858. Twenty-eight years later, in 1886, the Rainbow Society of Ole Miss was admitted to the brotherhood. Here at Sewanee the Beta Theta chapter was founded on June 23, 1863.

During these eighty years its members have been distinguished contributors to the fine arts, the church, the business world, and the academic world. Sewanee's history has been enriched by the members of the chapter: Newton Middleton wrote the Alma Mater and Dr. George B. Myers was a guiding force in the School of Theology.

In the contemporary history of Sewanee we are honored to include men whose service to the University is notable: Rt. Rev. Frank A. Juhan: Mr. William W. Lewis, professor emeritus of Spanish; the Rev. Ellis Bearden, verger of All Saint's Chapel; Mr. John Hodges, University Associate Librarian; and Mr. Eric Cheape.

The valued guidance which is received from these gentlemen cannot be replaced. By following their precept and example, the Delts have maintained that position of excellence which our tradition demands in all facets of University life.

This year's accomplishments are highlighted by the pledging of twenty men, the scoring of intramural points in all events, and the usual blending of work and pleasure. With a look backward to our heritage and with visions of the future, we continue to appreciate our years at Sewanee.

KAPPA ALPHA

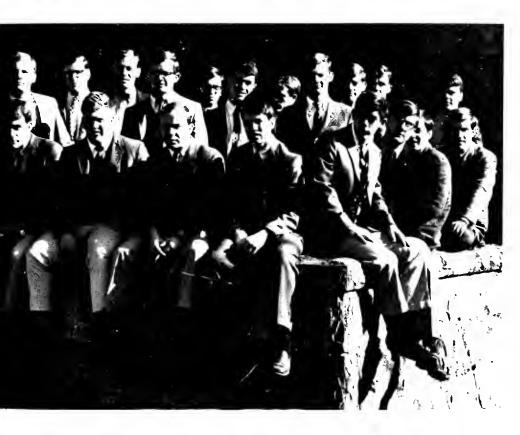

Kappa Alpha was born at Washington College, now Washington and Lee University, in Lexington, Virginia, on December 21, 1865. Alpha Alpha chapter, established in 1883 at Sewanee, has continued to carry on the traditions, principles, and ideals of the Order. The main goal of Kappa Alpha is the cultivation of gentlemanly virtues and graces. Wherever Kappa Alpha is known, it is rightly associated with Robert E. Lee, the spiritual founder of Kappa Alpha, General Lee was the perfect expression of the fine character that all members think of as the criterion of a true gentleman. Kappa Alpha seeks to contribute to useful manhood by inculcating in young men those virtues and graces that stood out so clearly in the life of Robert E. Lee.

Alpha Alpha during the last several years has enjoyed a most flourishing epoch in the chapter's eighty-three year history. In these years Kappa Alpha has boasted many University leaders in student government, athletics, scholarship, and dramatics. Rush week this year was the most successful in several years as Kappa Alpha pledged twenty new men. Athletically, Alpha Alpha Chapter enjoyed a respectable finish in football and a surprise landslide victory in the intramural wrestling tournament. Cherishing the spirit of its founding fathers and its Southern tradition, Kappa Alpha at Sewanee looks forword to a promising future on the Mountain.

KAPPA SIGMA

Kappa Sigma's traditional founding occurred about five centuries ago at the University of Bologna in Italy. There it served as a secret society of foreign students for mutual protection against the ruthless governor, Balthasar Cossa,

In 1869, this tradition was revived in the west when the Five Friends and Brothers established Kappa Sigma at the University of Virginia. Stephen A. Jackson, working to spread the tradition, established several chapters, including Omega at Sewance in 1882.

Since that time, Omega has always held an outstanding position among the many chapters of Kappa Sigma. It owned the first chapter house in the nation, produced Kappa Sigma's first Rhodes Scholar, and in one year had eight Phi Beta Kappas. Five bishops of the Episcopal Church were members of this chapter. This year Omega has accomplished much to keep this tradition alive. In sports the fraternity had members on the basketball, soccer, golf, and tennis teams. In scholarship, it produced a Phi Beta Kappa. In publications it has had two consecutive editors, assistant managing editors, writer, and business manager of the Purple, in addition business manager and other staff members on the CAP AND GOWN. One brother is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership honor society, and several brothers are in the Jazz Society. Two brothers are presently serving on the Honor Council.

Omega chapter is most distinguished, however, by the good times its brothers have when they get together: whether at a party, the house, or just at a meal in Gailor.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

With the second largest pledge class on the Mountain and the largest pledge class of its short history, the Iota-Nu Chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha has ended another year of continuous growth since her founding as a colony at Sewanee six years ago.

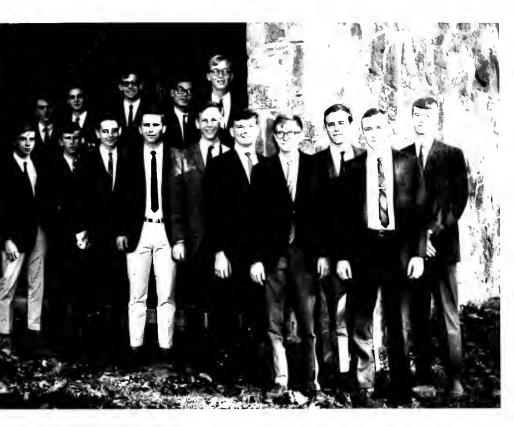

Lambda Chi Alpha was founded at Boston University on November 2, 1909, and since then it has established itself as the third largest fraternity in the Greek system, with chapters in the United States and Canada. The lota-Nu Zeta Chapter here at Sewance was first conceived in February, 1961, by fourteen men looking for a more positive side of fraternalism. After two years of hard work and growing as a group the Colony received her charter on April 6. 1963. and the chapter was installed,

In the fifth year of progress, the brothers of lota-Nu have passed the first years of growth and have begun to establish themselves as a maturing fraternity. With an emphasis on service the brothers have been at the top of the field in the area of public service. Since its founding, Iota-Nu has either won or finished second in the annual Bloodmobile Drive, regaining the trophy again this year. In scholarship the fraternity finished third this year. With the very successful rush last fall, Lambda Chilooks forward to a varied life in the University this year.

PHI DELTA THETA

Phi Delta Theta was founded on December 26, 1848, at Miami University, Ohio. The fraternity's purpose is multifold: the cultivation of fellowship, the acquisition of mental culture, and the development of a personal standard of morality. It provides the balance between conflicting ideals that permeates an atmosphere of brother-hood, that fosters growth into manhood.

Tennessee Beta was recognized by the national headquarters in March, 1883. Plans for the house were considered, and in the fall of that year one was erected. The Sewance Phi's thus became one of the first fraternities in the South and the first Phi chapter in the nation to own its own house. In 1907, work began on The Castle, the present house, which was modeled after Founder's Tower, Oxford.

The Sewanee Phi's demonstrated their tradition of excellence this year in an unprecedented manner when two of the brothers received Rhodes Scholarships. The magnitude of this achievement can be more fully realized when one considers that only thirty-two of these coveted awards, which are based on well-roundeness as much as academic prowess, as made each year in the United States.

Phi's are active in every phase of Sewanee life. In the past five years the have had three presidents, a vice-president and two secretaries of the Order of Gown men. This year, in addition to the president of the Order, the Phi's have the Assistant Editor of the Sewanee Purple president of ODK, president of the Gree Ribbon Society, four Phi Beta Kappa four proctors, three members of Who Who, two members of Blue Key, president of the Jazz Society, and president of the Pre-Law Club.

In the area of athletics, the Phi's are a tive also. For two of the last four year they have won the intramural trophy. Be dominating the football all-star squad, the have started this year on the right foo Phi's participate on every varsity team, an have made outstanding contributions to Sewanee's athletic program.

Tennessee Beta is proud of its a complishments, and hopes to continue it tradition of excellence.

PHI GAMA DELTA

Phi Gamma Delta was founded at Washington and Jefferson College on May 1, 1848. Today. Phi Gamma Delta is an international fraternity with 88 chapters in the United States and Canada.

The Gamma Sigma Chapter at Sewanee received its charter in 1919. Since those early years the chapter has participated actively in every campus endeavor, setting goals of excellence in all fields. The Phi Gams, this year and last, produced the captain of the football team. Honor Council President, German Club President, co-captain of the basketball teams, members of Blue Key, Who's Who. Student Vestry, three dormitory proctors, members of Sopherim, and ODK.

In maintaining active campus participation and civic duties, the Fijis were fourth in grade averages and remained a campus power in all intramural athletics.

Gamma Sigma is proud of its caliber of men and hopes that its brothers will continue to lead as other men who have worn and do wear the badge of Phi Gamma Delta.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

On March 9, 1856, in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, eight (8) young men of the University of Alabama founded the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. This organization has grown to become the largest social fraternity in this country.

The Tennessee Omega Chapter was founded August 20, 1881, and was responsible for much of the progress of the national fraternity. It was the first chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon to own its own house. Part of the cost of the house was made by the members who carried mail out of Sewanee. The house was also declared an SAE shrine by the national fraternity.

On February 4, 1965, the old house was totally destroyed by fire. This is the first year that we have spent in our new lodge.

As always, this year the brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon have been active in campus organizations and athletics. The president of the choir and the president of the German Club are brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. In athletics, one brother is captain of the wrestling team and one is co-captain of the Soccer Club. Sigma Alpha Epsilon also boasts of members of the golf, tennis, swimming, and track teams. Brothers are also members of the Jazz Society. Waiters Guild, and the Order of Gownsmen. Brother Ben Powell was named to the Who's Who.

Tennessee Omega has a tradition of excellence not only among the active chapter, but also among the alumni. We encourage friendship, fellowship, and scholarship, as well as the social aspects one expects in fraternity life. Tennessee Omega is proud of its past accomplishments and will continue to maintain its fine traditions on the mountain.

The national fraternity of Sigma Nu was founded on January 1, 1869, at Virginia Military Institute. Brothers James Frank Hopkins, Greenfield Quarles, and James McIlvaine Riley initiated this fraternity which has over 130 national chapters, including 75.000 members. The national magazine of Sigma Nu is the Delta, one of the most outstanding publications of its kind, which was printed in 1883 by John Alexander Howard.

Beta Omicron chapter of Sigma Nu was founded at Sewanee in 1889. Through the period of the First World War, Beta Omicron experienced dormancy, after which in 1921, came the second founding of this chapter. Charles Thomas designed and supervised the building of the present lodge in 1927. Extensive renovations were conducted in the summer of 1963, which greatly improved the house while enhancing the social life of the fraternity.

Sigma Nu has continued its leadership on campus with the editor of the Mountain Goat, the president of the IFC, a proctor, members in the Red Ribbon Society, a cheerleader, a member of the Honor Council, the Student Vestry, as well as a committee chairmanship in the Order of Gownsmen, also the election of a brother to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. We have also been active in sports. Beta Omicron boasts star tankers, also members of the wrestling, golf, soccer, and football.

In intramurals Sigma Nu members have proven themselves to be genuine competitors. The fraternity showed excellent results in all phases of the program and won the Cross Country event.

Beta Omicron has carried on its policy of performing community projects. Sigma Nu placed first in the annual Help Week program for the underprivileged children, and its annual Christmas party for the underprivileged children on the mountain has highlighted this community spirit.

GAMMA THETA

This is the second year that Gamma Theta has been on the Sewanee campus, and its presence has become rapidly known in many facets of University life. Gamma Theta is unique among Sewanee fraternities in that it has no national affiliation. This has its advantages, for the dues demanded are much smaller and the chapter has less interference from outside influences.

Gamma Theta has been a leader in academic averages since its arrival at Sewanee, and has contributed a number of men to the soccer team. This year Gamma Theta has proved to be a valuable addition to the Sewanee fraternity system. and will offer to continue its contributions in future years.

INTRAMURALS

Intramural sports played their, usual important role in extra-curricular activities during the 1966-1967 year. With both team and individual events, each fraternity finds ample opportunity to display its athletic prowess. ATO and PDT were once again picked to dominate the other clubs.

Touch football began the intramural calendar, and the ATO's were the pre-season pick over the Phi's. With an early victory over the Phi's, the Tau's were deadlocked for the lead at midway with the Kappa Sig's and the Phi Gam's. Sliding past the Fiji's, the ATO's and the Ks's, now the only unbeaten teams in the league. headed toward what appeared to be the deciding game. The Kappa Sig's, however, dropped two games en route to the ATO duel, and the ATO's moved into an uncontested first place slot. The Tau's finished the season unbeaten and untied. followed by the once beaten Phi's. The Delta Tau Delta's finished third. Led by tailback Algernon Smith and ends Doug Urquhart and Neal Iverson, the ATO's placed four on the post-season all--tar team.

Lencho Dicus, outstanding tailback for the Phi Delts, was chosen as the Most Valuable Player for the fourth consecutive year. Including the above, Tim Peters. PDT, the league's high scorer, Terry Paine, DTD. Jim Brittain, PDT, Bill Lambeth, KA, Joe Parker, SAE, Jack Bryan, ATO, Rusty Napier, DTD, and Jim Ezzell, PDT represented their respective fraternities as players on the All-Star Team.

Continuing their winning way, the ATO's splashed to victory in the intramural swimming meet. The win was no runaway, however, as the Betas came within twelve points of winning. With only two winners in individual events, they managed the win by placing at least one man in every event. KA Eugene Prunty proved to be the high-point man of the meet with 14, followed by ATO's Larry Turner and Wally McCall, and Phi Delt John Alexander.

In cross country, the Sigma Nus garnered their first win of the intramural season, followed by the ATO's and SAE's. ATO pledges Lea Richmond and Reggie Bedell placed first and second respectively. but the Sigma Nu strength in the lower spots proved more than enough to provide the winning margin.

The Kappa Alphas nabbed their first win in recent intramural history in the wrestling competition. Led by "Bruiser Bob" Mayre and Romy Gonzoles, the KA's proved too much for the second-place Betas.

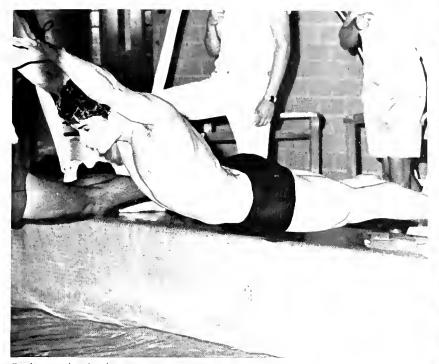

The volleyball season got under way with the ATO's and Phi Gams picked in pre-season polls to be strong contenders. Getting off to a fast start, the ATO's grabbed five quick wins, including a decisive victory over the Delts. At the halfway point in the season, the ATO's and Phi Gams emerged as the only unbeaten teams.

"It's a what?"

In the deciding game, the ATOs posted a surprisingly easy win over the Fijis. The season closed with the ATOs in possession of a perfect 12-0 record, followed by the Fijis and Betas in second and third places, respectively. Outstanding players included: Jody Smith, Neal Iverson and Buck Jardine, ATOs; Henry Vruwink, PGD; Duvey Spruill, DTD; and Dr. Laurence Alvarez, Faculty.

Handball was dominated by the Phis as Tom Veal took first in the singles and then teamed with Timbo Hubbard to win the doubles. ATO placed second in the donbles and third overall on the strength of Travis Moon and Doug Urquhart's play. Gray Cole led the KSs to second place in the overall standings.

Basketball season opened with the Fijis slated as the team to beat. Led by Johnny Seed, Chap Wasson, David Norton, and Wally Wilson, the Phi Gams possessed an unblemished record at the time of this writing. They should remain undefeated and thereby earn forty points. The real battle however was over places two through four. ATO, led by Jody Smith. Chip Moon, and Guy Griffith: SAE, led by Jim Meyer and John Newfang: and DTD, with Rusty Napier, Paul Prentiss, and Don Ellis, were to decide these positions. SAE was the victor over ATO and DTD.

Even though ATO leads as the CAP AND GOWN goes to press, five spring sports remain, so the overall I. M. winner is anybody's guess.

head coach Majors, and end coach Carter.

Sewanee had two of the hest managers in John Hunziker and Tommy Balsley.

After losing 23 of 25 contests in the last three years, six Sewanee opponents finally gained revenge on the painfully young 1966 football team. The Tigers played in the true Sewanee spirit, but because of a few costly errors due to inexperience, the season ended with a 2-6 record.

The season began with the Tigers dropping a 40-28 decision to Millsaps. The Sewanee offense dominated the first half, but the fired-up Majors scored with ten seconds remaining in the first half and came out to score twenty points in the second half while holding the Tigers scoreless. The defense failed to gel in the second half as it lost captain David Paschall because of a knee injury.

Ernest Kirk was a star on both offense and defense, scoring one touchdown and recovering a fumble to set up a second. Charles Gignilliat led the offense by passing for one touchdown and scoring on a l-yard plunge.

Sewanee next traveled to Virginia to take on Randolph-Macon. The Tiger defense almost carried the day, but the hosts were victorious 7-0 on a wet, muddy field. The Yellow Jackets scored the only touchdown of the game in the first quarter after a Tiger fumble. Although the Sewanee defense recovered five fumbles, the offense was unable to move and the game ended in a 7-0 loss. This was a very important test for the Tigers as Coach Majors played many underclassmen. Freshmen Pete Enwall, Bubba Owens, Todd Shelton and Curtis Smith were outstanding on defense, along with sophomore David Oakley.

The Sewanee team found itself and trounced Kenyon College 41-12. The Tiger offense regained the form of the Millsaps game as Charles Gignilliat scored three touchdowns. The Lords were never in the game as Sewanee took a 20-0 lead at half-time on scores by Gignilliat. Rusty Adcock, and Ernest Kirk while the defense, led by Bill Blount, Chip Langley. Tom Pope, and Jim Beene halted every Kenyon threat

In the second half the defense stopped several Kenyon drives inside the Tiger ten-yard line. In the final period the offense came back to life as Gignilliat scored two quick touchdowns to put the game on ice. Rusty Adcock guided the final Tiger drive and passed to wingback Marshall Boon for a score on the final play of the game.

Todd Shelton turns back for a pass in the Centre game.

The Tigers' final game before their fourgame conference schedule was the Homecoming game with Austin College as the Kangaroos heat their hosts 22-0 in one of the worst fogs in Sewanee history. The first quarter was highlighted by a goal*line stand by the Tigers, which pushed Austin from a first and goal to a Sewanee first down on their own four. In the second quarter Charlie Gignilliat and Bubba Owens moved the ball to the Austin seven, but they were not able to cross the Austin goal line. Austin then drove to a score and took an 8-0 lead into the dressing room at halftime.

In the second half, the Tigers could not stem the Kangaroo ground attack and the final score was Austin 22. Sewanee 0. The Sewanee attack was headed by fullback Bubba Owens as the Tigers were forced to stay on the ground by the thick fog.

The Centre College Colonels handed Sewanee its first conference defeat by the score of 27-0 on Hardee Field. Depending on a tremendous running game and a tenacious defense, the Colonels were very impressive in their victory.

The Tigers, trailing 7-0, sustained a 75-yard drive under the leadership of Rusty Adcock, but it was stopped short of the goal line. After the half, Sewanee drove again to the Centre 16. but again the offense sputtered. Four pass interceptions by the visitors stopped any Tiger offense, as Adcock was the leading Sewanee back, while Ernest Kirk again headed the defense with ten tackles.

Sewanee retained the Edmond Orgill trophy at the expense of the Southwestern Lynx. The Tigers won this one for the bishop because he was presented with his Hall of Fame plaque at the halftime ceremonies.

Southwestern drew first blood in the second quarter, but the Tigers came roaring back with Rusty Adcock going over from the one-yard line. The extra point was missed and the Lynx took a slim 7-6 lead into the third quarter. In this period freshman Curtis Smith fell on a fumble and Jim Beene carried the ball into pay dirt from the eight for a 12-7 lead. Southwestern then scored again and took a slim lead which lasted only until Adcock passed to Boon for the winning touchdown.

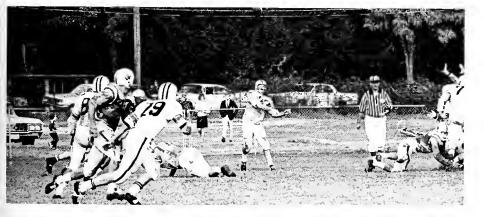

Coming from the Southwestern victory the Tigers were again plagued by had luck as they lost a close decision to Washington and Lee. For most of the first half Sewanee controlled the ball as Charles Gignilliat drove the team 48 yards for the score. The Generals bounced back and tied the score at the end of the half. In the third quarter the Tigers recovered a fumble on the W&L twelve and Mike Underwood kicked a 27yard field goal for a 10-7 lead in the game. In the final period the Generals managed two fields goals, the winning one with 1:30 left on the clock, to eke out the victory. The Tigers played a fine game even though it was a loss, as a fumble and two pass interceptions doomed them to defeat.

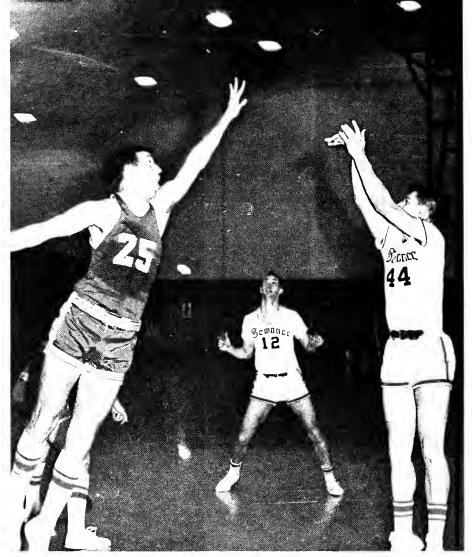

This was the final game for the three seniors on the team: Dave Paschall. Richard Dolbeer, and Chip Langley, and their performances throughout the season were outstanding. Although this was the first losing season in a decade, Coach Majors has a solid experienced team for the 1967 season, and one can be sure that the victory bells will ring frequently this coming fall.

Captain Larry Cunningham fires in one of his patented long set shots after faking a Georgia State defender off his feet. In the background is Ed Grant, the Tigers' top scorer.

1966-67 proved a bitterly disappointing season for a hard-working Sewanee basketball squad that was never able to win the close games on the road. The Tigers wound up the season with a 10-11 record, 8-2 at home and 2-9 on the road.

Twice the Tigers fell in overtime, once they lost by a single point and once by two, and four times they saw leads or ties evaporate in the last 60 seconds of the game.

Most disappointing of these narrow defeats was the 58-55 overtime loss to Washington and Lee that halted Sewanee's drive for a second straight College Athletic Conference championship.

The season was particularly disappointing for the three seniors who paced the Tigers throughout the year. Ed Grant led the team in scoring with a 19.4 average. Tom Ward led in field goal shooting with 50.8 per cent and rebounding with a 12.6 average and Larry Cunningham was tops on the team in free throw shooting, hitting 78.7 per cent, and assists with an average of six a game.

Other heavy duty performers were Sam Carroll, Frank Stainback, Fred Jones, Mark Armstrong, Ron Shelton and Joe Galloway.

High points of the season came early in February with an outstanding performance against Florida Presbyterian, possibly the Tigers' most powerful opponent, and a 77-56 crush of No. 1 rival Southwestern.

SWIMMING

The Sewanee swimmers splashed their way through a tough schedule to a mediocre 4-4 record. The tankmen posted victories over Union, Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech, and Louisville, losing heartbreakingly close meets to Tulane and Kentucky. Other losses were to Eastern Kentucky and Alabama.

In the course of the season nine school and two pool records fell to the marauding Tigers. Sophomore Bob Couch, Sewanee's most outstanding aquaman, set six records as he led the Tigers with 62.75 points. Couch set school records of 11:21.2, 1:53.6, and 5:17.2 in the 1,000, 200, and 500 yard freestyle events. He also anchored the record breaking free relay team.

John Colmore was the second high scorer turning in a total of 45.75 points for the season. Colmore was clocked at a record breaking 22.8 in the 50 yard freestyle. Third high point man was Doug Baker, a fine freestyler who specialized in the distance events.

The backstroke chores were capably handled by Rick Dent and freshman Dick Landrum. Dent set records in the 100 and 200 yard backstroke events with times of 59.3 and 2:15.9 respectively. Divers Bruce Torrance and Bryan Starr also had excellent seasons.

Working behind these fine performers was a capable and dedicated team. Since no CAC meet was held the Tigers did not get a chance to defend their crown. Prospects for next year seem bright as only one senior, Rick Clewis, will be absent from the squad.

The free relay team composed of Bob Couch, John Turpit, Butch Oakes (not shown), Lloyd Moore, and John Colmore turned in a sizzling 3:26.1 time against Tulane to set a school and pool record.

The Sewanee Wrestling Team started the year with a large, talented group of wrestlers. The team was very strong in a good number of weight classes, especially the lightweights.

In their first match, the grapplers routed Troy State by a margin of 26-10. The next match was won by an even greater margin over Emory (34-5).

At the beginning of the second semester, Coach Horace Moore found himself and the team missing three men in the middle weight classes. Both of the Co-captains, Chip Langley and Billy McKenzie, were no longer with the team. Also missing was Larry Roberts, who dropped out with health problems.

With this part of the team missing, the Tigers dropped three straight, losing to Maryville College, 19-14; Troy State, 21-11; and finally losing to a powerful Auburn team, 30-6.

Bouncing back under the leadership of sophomore Captain, Jack Baker, the Tigers rallied and beat a strong University of Chattanooga team, 22-15, finishing the season with a record of 3 wins and 3 losses.

The S.E.I.C. Tournament saw sophomore Tee Parker grab first place in the 115 lb. class. Freshman Bobby Slaten also won his weight class (130 lbs.), to become one of the few freshmen to ever win in the S.E.I.C. Tournament, Undefeated Jack Baker (123 lbs.) lost a tough decision in the finals to take second place. Junior Heavyweight, John Colby, and senior John Laskey (191 lbs.) both took thirds, while sophomore Jim Hey (147 lbs.) placed fourth. Freshman Boy Roberts (137 lbs.) and senior "Doc" Gilbert (167 lbs.) both lost opening round matches.

Even though Sewanee was without three of its key wrestlers, it managed its highest finish in the conference since 1964, which is a great tribute to the team as a whole, and Coach Moore.

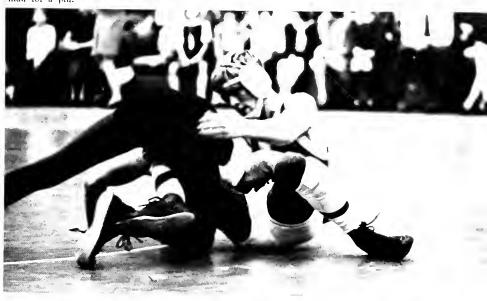

Sewanee's only undefeated wrestler in the regular season, Jack Baker, led the Tigers to a third in the S.E.I.C. meet.

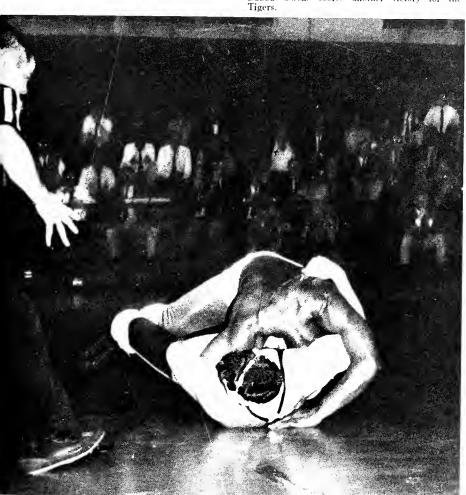

Sophomore Jim Hey gains valuable riding time while gaining another victory for the Tigers.

TRACK

The Sewanee track team, led by sophomore Captain Ron Tomlin looked forward to a successful season and another high finish in the C.A.C. track meet on May 12 and 13. The team, although small, has a nucleus of experienced lettermen and several very versatile performers.

Coach Horace Moore lost many valuable men from last year by graduation and by transfer. Captain John Scott will be hard to replace in the dashes and the 330 yard hurdles, as will Rick Rowe in the 880 relay. Versatile Wynne Bush, last year's high point man, will be missed in the broad jump, high jump, 440 and the relays. The absence of Jay Reynolds, Thad Waters and Randy Tucker will be felt in the field events.

The pole vault will again be the strong point of the Tiger team. Vaulters Robin Harding. Tyler Colley, and John Colmore all placed in last year's conference meet and all are plus 12'6" vaulters. Ron Tomlin will be counted on for many firsts in the 440 and 330 as he holds the school records for both of these events. The dashes will be the assignment of Jim Beene and Dominic Cianella, who has recovered from leg trouble. They will fill in two legs of the 330 relay. Freshman Cary Westerfield will run the hurdle events. and his brother, George, will handle the weight events along with John Colmore. Senior Jim Freels will provide valuable experience in the one mile and two mile distance runs. Jim Meyer, will be used in both the running and the field events.

With talented, front line performers such as the Sewanee track team possesses, an excellent season is very possible. It will be up to Coach Moore to develop the freshmen in order to provide the Tigers with the necessary depth which is essential for a good finish in the conference meet in Memphis.

BASEBALL

The 1967 Sewanee baseball should be a carbon copy of the 1966 team. The Tigers did not lose any starting players and will have eleven returning lettermen. Led by Captain David Paschall, the team will feature a hard hitting club with a lot of speed.

The hitting will be led by Chap Wasson who has completely recovered from the severe arm injury sustained in a car acci-

Ernest Kirk, and Kyle Duncan will be the long ball hitters, while Dave Paschall, John Bryson, and Kesley Colbert can be counted on for the key hits.

Sewanee will, however, be a little weak on the mound as there are only two experienced pitchers, Greg Rogers and Kyle Duncan. Duncan will be called upon for the bulk of the pitching chores by Coach Majors, while Rogers will be a relief man and spot starter. Chap Wasson and Ernest Kirk also may be used for righthanded starters or in relief.

The 1967 Sewanee tennis team. ably coached by Gordon Warden, faces an extremely tough schedule this season. With matches against such foes as Kentucky, Georgia, and Indiana; as well as the strong CAC teams, the Tigers are up against "top-notch" tennis from beginning to end. Having lost the first five starters from last year, the netters are composed almost entirely of freshmen and sophomores. The first four positions are held by: number one, Bill Yates; number two, "Moot" Burns; John Parsons at three; and Harve Johnson holding down the fourth spot. The remaining two starters will come from Jim Burns, Manning Kimble, Rick Weakley, and the "B-Team" members.

The '67 season could be termed a building year, with little if any experience within the team. As they do get that experience, opponents had better beware, for the potential and the coaching are there.

With five returning lettermen and two consecutive C.A.C. Bells to their credit, Sewanee's golf team, coached by Coach Warden and Coach Bryant, faces the upcoming season with great expectations. Last year saw the Tigers emerge with a 9-3-3 record, the best in the school's history. It also finished with a victory in the C.A.C. tournament and by slashing thirteen strokes off their own scoring record. With this experienced squad Sewanee can be expected to repeat as champs in the conference.

Captain John Grubb, alternate captain Bill Tunnell, and Rusty Napier, the "Big Three," form the nucleus of the squad. They are all junior two-year lettermen. Rounding out the team are Allyn Lang and Don McCammon, both lettermen, Chip Jones, Ed White, Kent Philips, Jock Tonnissen, and John Cutler. These men form a tough sextet, and in light of this year's schedule, they must be at their best to equal last year's victories.

The 1966 Tiger Soccer Team

In their second season of intercollegiate competition, the 1966 version of the soccer team continued upon the winning ways of its immediate predecessor and ended the season with an impressive 7-4-1 record. Under the competent leadership of Coach Ira B. Read and Captain P. R. Walter, stellar center halfback, and blessed with more than adequate depth, the team's play was characterized by fine ball control, enabling Sewanee to dominate play even in their losing efforts.

Fine play by forwards Cary Westerfield. David Eaton. Forrest Wulf and halfback Walter enabled the defense team to mold itself into a cohesive unit after a somewhat shaky start. Both units merged into a splendid team in its 6-3 victory over the German Air Force team stationed in Huntsville, Alabama. Defeated previously only by an international team of Chicago in a four-year period, the Luftwaffe found Sewanee too much to handle: amid six quick goals furnished by the offense, the Tigers' defense with almost super-human efforts by goalie George Westerfield did not allow the explosive Germans a single goal until well into the fourth quarter.

With the loss of only Captain Walter and Les McClean, the prospects are bright for the 1967 season.

Mr. Neal J. Iverson The University of the South Box 377 Sewance, Tennessee

Dear Mr. Iverson:

I have attached a colored snapshot proving that I actually did my homework as a judge in the selection of Miss Sewanee for 1967. Incidently, my son-in-law, Howard H. Baker, Jr., now a member of the United States Senate from Tennessee, was at one time a student at the University of the South.

To make sure that the selections in order are correct we have marked them #1, #2 and #3.

It is not an easy task to make a judgment smong so many lovely young ladies. There enters into it one's personal opinion of personality, features, beauty and other factors and finally a peculiar kind of personal prejudice for a certain type of beauty. It might be something in the eyes or in the smile or in features generally but whatever it is it finally adds up to a judgment.

I trust that the young ladies who did not score in the first three will not be unduly offended because it would have been easy to select any of them as winners. Best wishes.

Sincerely,

Everett McKinley Dirksen

"5—6—7 . . ."

"B . . . as in Beach Ball!"

A new roost.

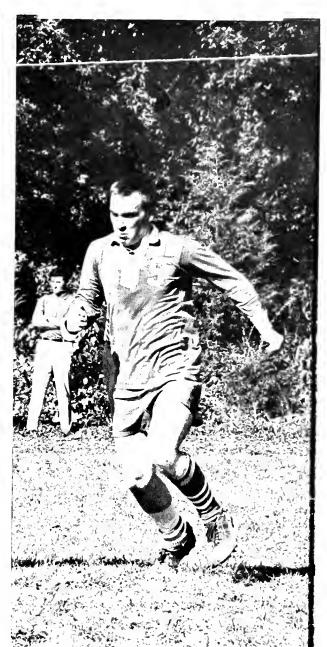

Snotty little bastard.

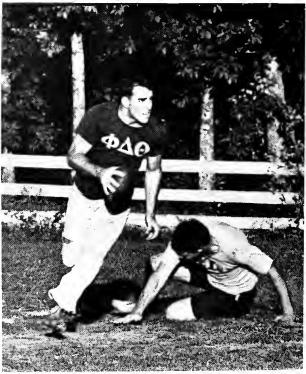

"Well . . . then I'll just go home!"

"I love you . . . "

"Yes Sir!"

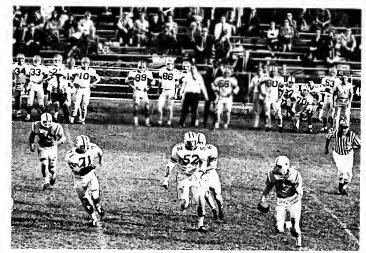

No. 2 tries harder.

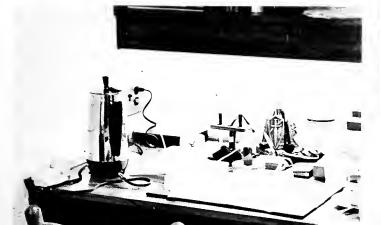

The proposed Science Hall.

The new Silviculture Laboratory.

As usual, lots of blocks.
